How to select the right journal?

How to select the right journal?

Why do you want to publish your work?

How to select the right journal?

Factors to consider:

- Type of paper i.e. practice paper, research paper, case study, review, viewpoint?
- Readership?
- Communicative? Emerging? Community-based?
- Bibliometrics favourable citation patterns?

Be political (e.g. national vs. international) and strategic (e.g. five articles in 'low ranked' journals vs. one in 'top ranked' journal)

- likelihood of acceptance?
- ABS-ranked journal?

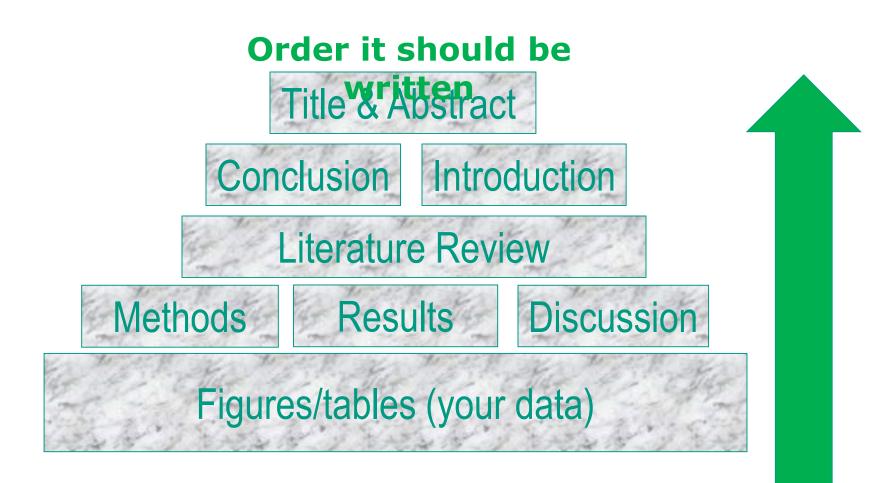

What makes a good paper? HINT: Editors and reviewers look for

- Originality what's new about subject, treatment or results?
- Relevance to and extension of existing knowledge
- Recency and relevance of references
- Research methodology are conclusions valid and objective?
- Clarity, structure and quality of writing does it communicate well?
- Sound, logical progression of argument
- Theoretical and practical implications (the `so what?' factors!)
- Internationality/Global focus
- Adherence to the editorial scope and objectives of the journal

And title, keywords and a well written abstract

Titles

"Good titles are key to getting cited more frequently" Maximising the impact of your research, chapter 4

A good title should contain the fewest possible words that adequately describe the contents of a paper

(A)A phrase that introduces the paper and catches the reader's eye

(B) Keywords that identify focus of the work

(C) The "location" where those keywords will be explored

Keywords

- Researchers search using key phrases. What would you search for?
- Look at the keywords of articles relevant to your manuscript do they give good results?
- Be descriptive topic, sub discipline, methodology and significant features
- Jargon
- Repeat appropriately (abstract/title)

Introduction

Convince readers that you know why your work is relevant and answer questions they might have:

- What is the problem?
- Are there any existing solutions?
- Which one is the best?
- What is its main limitation?
- What do you hope to achieve?

Literature review

- Quote from previous research
- What are you adding? Make it clear
- Use recent work to cite
- Self citing only when relevant
- Any work that is not your own MUST be referenced
- If you use your own previously published work it MUST be referenced

http://www.emeraldinsight.com/authors/guides/write/literature htm

Method

- indicate the main methods used
- demonstrate that the methodology was robust, and appropriate to the objectives.
- Focus on telling the main story, stating the main stages of your research, the methods used, the influences that determined your approach, why you chose particular samples, etc. Additional detail can be given in Appendices.

Results

✓ Main facts

✓ Significant results

✓ Be objective

Discussion

Consider:

- Do you provide interpretation for each of your results presented?
- Are your results consistent with what other investigators have reported? Or are there any differences? Why?
- Are there any limitations?
- Does the discussion logically lead to your conclusion?

Do not

- Make statements that go beyond what the results can support
- Suddenly introduce new terms or ideas

Conclusion

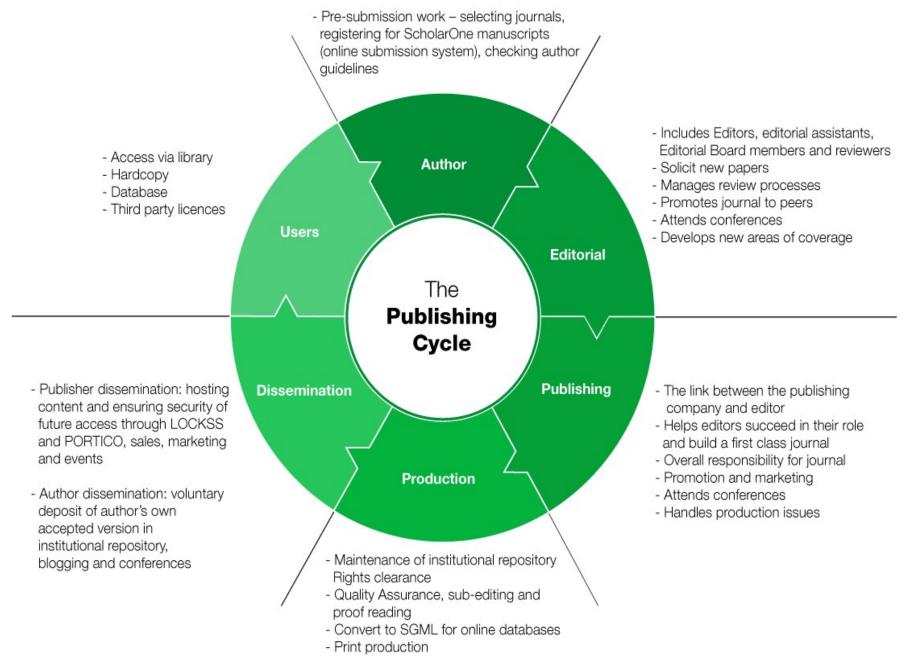

- Present global and specific conclusions
- Indicate uses and extensions
- Answer the original question
- Apply to theory and
 Apply to theory and<

- Summarise the paper the abstract is for this
- Start a new topic/introduce new material
- Make obvious statements
- Contradict yourself

The publishing process and surviving peer review

- Despatch

Surviving peer review

"Many papers are rejected simply because they don't fulfil journal requirements. They don't even go into the review process."

- Identify a few possible target journals/series but be realistic
- Follow the Author Guidelines scope, type of paper, word length, references style, etc
- Find out where to send your paper (editor, online submission e.g. Scholar One). Check author guidelines which can be found in a copy of the journal/series or the publisher's web site
- Send an outline or abstract and ask if this looks suitable and interesting (or how it could be made so)
- Read at least one issue of the publication visit your library for access
- Include a cover letter opportunity to speak directly to the editor, convince them of the importance of your manuscript to the journal

Surviving peer review

Reasons for rejections

- Not following instructions author guidelines
- Inappropriate to the journal scope
- Problem with quality (inappropriate methodology, not reasonably rigorous)
- Insufficient contribution to the field

Typical criticisms (journal dependent)

Paper motivation is weak is there really a gap in our understanding? Did it need filling?

Theory development is weak

theory by assertion, or reinvention of existing theory

Empirical work is weak

methodology not plausible, tests don't rule out alternative hypotheses

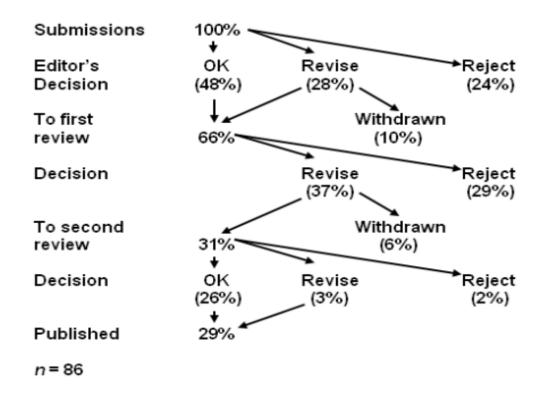

`So what'?

nothing wrong with the paper – but nothing very insightful either

only incremental research, doesn't affect an existing emgaradigm

Surviving peer review

Terrend de 16% who gave up

Don't give up! Everybody has been rejected at least once

Ask and listen most editors give detailed comments about a rejected paper.

Try to improve and resubmit. Do your homework and target your paper as closely as possible

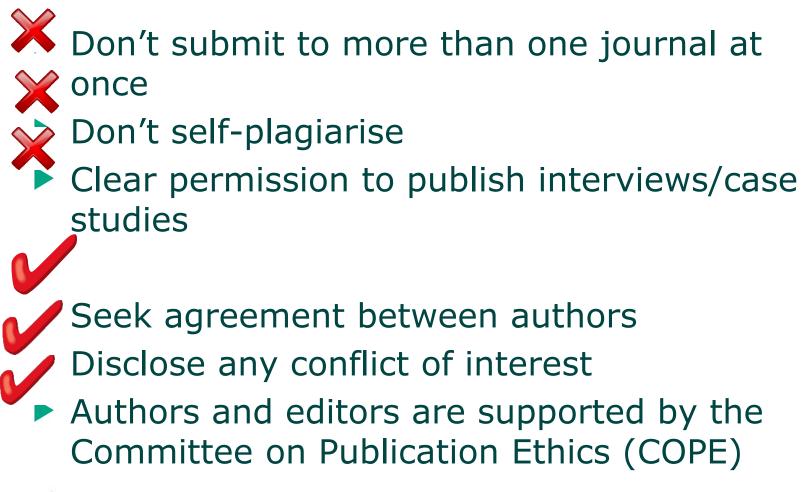

Surviving peer review

Revision tips

- ✓ Acknowledge the editor and set a revision deadline
- \checkmark If you disagree, explain why to the editor
- ✓ Clarify understanding if in doubt
- ✓ Consult with colleagues or co-authors
- ✓ Meet the revision deadline
- ✓ Attach a covering letter which identifies, point by point, how revision requests have been met (or if not, why not)

Plagiarism

- The act of taking someone else's work and passing it off as your own (false attribution). It is considered fraud!
- Hard to detect with peer review but there are new tools to help us
- Emerald's entire portfolio is included in iThenticate web-based software from iParadigms http://www.ithenticate.com/
